Iron and Steel Scrap Still Needed

OTTAWA, September — Half a million tons of scrap iron and steel must be added to the stockpiles throughout Canada before the winter freeze-up the Department of Munitions and Supply has announced.

"Canada faces a steel crisis which can be solved only by the active co-operation of every farmer, every manufacturer, and every other owner of machinery," said F. E. Kilbourn, Steel Controller. "If our steel mills are to keep up maximum production all winter, every last item of scrap iron and steel must be sold to a collection agent or given to a National Salvage committee within the next few weeks."

The Controller added that a recent order makes it illegal to retain, except by permit, any obsolete machinery which is not now serving a useful purpose. Such machinery and scrap iron and steel in all other forms weighing a total of 500 pounds or more, must be disposed of before September 15, or otherwise made over to the United Goods Administration of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board, Lumsden Building, Toronto.

"The order does not mean that seasonal machinery which will be used again next year should be scrapped," said Mr. Kilbourn. "On the contrary, it is essential that the fullest possible essential use be made of all existing equipment so that new steel need not be used in the manufacture of additional equipment."

The Controller added that the successful outcome of the war hinges on the ability of the United Nations to gather sufficient scrap iron and steel to keep the mills in full operation. "We need the scrap today," he said, "Tomorrow might be too late."

Sugar is Obtainable For Preserving Uses

OTTAWA, — In order to encourage consumption of the earlier varieties of apples, which because of the loss of export markets are in surplus this year, S. R. Noble, Sugar Administrator of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board, announced today that "until further notice" domestic consumers may purchase by voucher extra sugar at the rate of one pound per eight pounds of such apples consumed in the household. This is equivalent to one pound of sugar for a six-quart basket of apples, or five pounds per bushel box, crate or hamper.

As apples are not preserved to any great extent, this fruit has not hitherto qualified for the issue of sugar on purchase vouchers, but it is recognized that it is desirable to stimulate the use of early varieties which are not keepers and are mainly used for cooking purposes. To the extent that they can be brought into additional consumption by an allowance of sugar this will tend to reduce the demand for imported dried fruit.

The extra allowance of sugar now authorized may be regarded as in aid of the coupon ration of sugar, one-half pound per person per week, intended to cover ordinary cooking needs. The extra allowance is therefore an encouragement to housewives to do more cooking of these early varieties than otherwise would be the case, and an additional incentive to make the best possible use of the large supply.

Young Folks Hold Surprise Party

Some 25 of the younger folks gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. Dixon one evening last week, as a surprise party for Allan Dixon and Gerald Nicholson who are leaving to take a special course at Alberta University to become high school teachers.

Games and contests filled the evening, and a boxing contest, in which Austin Kinghorn faced Mrs. Kinghorn and Allan Dixon mixed it with Ruby Chynoweth, (the men being blindfolded) caused a lot of fun before being declared a draw in both instances.

Amos Church was responsible for the eats, and during the supper, Jack Perkins presented a fountain pen to Allan and a leather wallet to Gerald. Both recipients suitably responded.

Mrs. Rex Eaton

Wainwright Officer in Dieppe Hero Role

The men of the Calgary Tank Regiment among whom were a number of young men from the Wainwright district, were the first to drive with British tanks on to the French shore when the recent raid on Dieppe was carried out with British tanks and they used their machines in a truly glorious manner.

Command of the tanks was given by the colonel of the regiment to Major Allen Glenn of Wainwright and the major and his sturdy lads went to land with the vast wave of tanks and gallantly upheld the tradition of their colors. Among the first ashore with them was Capt. W. Purdy of Calgary and also Lieut. T. Cornett of Red Deer.

This outfit had their machines at work putting out a deadly fire on German defenses on the boulevard within 15 minutes of touching land.

Later in the morning, as the evacuation of infantry began, a message was heard from Major Glenn ordering the men to abandon and destroy their tanks, and proceed to the first beach for embarkation. Immediately Lieut. Douglas was heard for the first time in his army life questioning an army order. "Why should I blow up my tank?" he asked. "I'm still going strong. I've got some ammunition left and ask to continue."

"You have your orders," said Major Glenn.

It was about the same time, or perhaps earlier that Capt. Stanton was heard to report "I've spotted some Jerry guns on the cliff. I'm laying into them with good effect."

And thus Wainwright's own Major Glenn (who has been reported as missing to his relatives here), who was formerly an officer of the 19th Dragoons before joining up with the tank regiment, duly upheld the motto which appears on their regimental badge, "Onward."—Con.

Grading of Campsite Commences in Park

Last week end saw the arrival of the first machines of one of the several outfits which will be put to work on the grading and leveling of the site for the new army camp in the National Park here.

The contract has been let to the Gibbs Construction Co., of Regina and this firm is bringing in the machinery which has lately been in use at Prince Albert—another such contract.

It is reported that some four separate outfits will be at work on the area within the next week or ten days, and that it is hoped to have the whole of the site ready for the carpenters and builders who will erect the very many "huts" etc., with in possibly record time.

Public School Board Holds Regular Meet.

On Tuesday, September 1st, the trustees of the Wainwright school district No. 32, held on August 20th.

In the absence of Chairman W. Carell, Trustee O. R. Hannah was elected to the chair.

A motion to reorganize the Town of Wainwright for the sum of $15,000.00 to meet expenditures for the month of September was passed.

Adjournment was regularly moved and carried.

Local V.V.Rs. Elect New Officers

At a gathering of the local branch of the Veteran Volunteer Reserve held on Friday evening last in their quarters in the Town Hall, a goodly number were on hand for the election of officers to commence the winter season and outline their activities.

After firing practice (at which some remarkably good targets were turned in) a canteen luncheon was served those present. Herb Wilson being head of the K.P. for the occasion.

The balloting resulted as follows for the election: Commandant, Capt. Geo. Glass; pay sergeant, H. Wilson. Section commanders are to be appointed at the next meeting and a programme outlined.

Each Friday evening at 8:15 was decided as the meeting date.

The local library officials are asking that any persons having any high school supplementary reading books bring these to the library on Saturday afternoon as there is a call for this class of literature.

NATIONAL REGISTRATION OF WOMEN STARTED

Board of Trade Busy on Several Projects

At the usual monthly meeting of the Wainwright Board of Trade held last week, President W. Huntington presided over a gathering of some 21 members, and following the reading and adoption of the minutes of the previous meeting, many projects were outlined for the betterment of both town and district.

It was noted with pleasure that the Town Council had given favorable consideration for additional police protection by agreeing to increase the force. The total tonnage of scrap metals, etc., shipped since June was reported to be five full carloads, with about another 100 tons in sight.

The matter of housing accommodation shortage in town, in view of the new army camp here, was discussed and it was decided that an advertisement be published asking all persons having spare accommodation to register same with the secretary of the Board, Mr. C. Williams, as soon as possible, in order to fill any needs arising.

Messrs Smith, Coleman, Koch and Cork were appointed a committee to get details regarding the institution of a "hostess house" for town, against the time when such may be needed by the men who are to be domiciled in the new camp.

To fill the vacancy of vice-president, caused by the resignation of Mr. F. Conroy, Mr. W. Washburn was elected to the office by an unanimous vote.

Other matters, including radio interference, the War Savings Stamp Drive, assistance for harvesting operations, a covered skating rink for town, etc., were brought up and each given consideration.

Board of Trade Busy on Several Projects

Because registration of Canadian women will be compulsory under National Selective Service regulations with the first group registering between September 14 to September 19 Mrs. Rex Eaton, assistant director of National Selective Service has issued clear-cut explanations of who must register so that no woman will break the law unintentionally.

The first group to register will be the age classes born between January 1, 1918 and December 31, 1922—in other words, women between the ages of 20 to 24 inclusive. All women must register, with one exception and that group is made up of the women who are employed and in possession of Unemployment Insurance Registration cards 411 and 413 who are still working for wages and who are paying unemployment insurance. Inmates of institutions such as hospitals, mental hospitals, and members of religious institutions need not register.

Other groups who must register include housewives, domestic servants, non workers, women employed in hospitals or charitable institutions, where they are not already registered; professional private duty nurses or probationers undergoing training to become professional nurses, women employed as teachers, including teachers of dancing and music who are not already registered; women employed as agents paid by commission or fees, such as real estate and insurance agents; and self-employed women which will include those operating their own business, owners of beauty parlors and shops.

Registration is compulsory in Employment and Selective Service offices where these are set up and in rural areas registration will be at the nearest post office.

The form which the women are asked to fill out includes questions of their education and training, willingness to go into war work. After all this age group has been registered the women who seem to be most likely prospects for war work will be called for an interview with one of the personnel workers of National Selective Service. The interview will be detailed and explain to the women, the urgency of their place in war production.

Mrs. Eaton stresses that all women must not expect to be placed immediately in some essential work, for they must realize that education in industry and essential occupations, such as nursing, social welfare or nutrition work must be carefully done. Registration will give Canada a complete up-to-date inventory of the workers available to keep guns, tanks and planes in service to the men in the front lines. Eventually all women will be registered but registration will proceed slowly until all age groups are tabulated.

WAINWRIGHT, WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 9th, 1942

FREE MEN'S MAGNA CARTA
CHARTER, 1916:

"No free man shall be taken or imprisoned or be disseised of his freehold, or liberties, or free customs, or be outlawed or exiled or otherwise destroyed, nor will we place upon him, nor condemn him, but by lawful judgment of his peers, or by the law of the land. To no man will we sell, to no man will we deny or defer, right or justice."

That was Runnymede on June 15, 1215. And it was decided by an act taking the part of Archbishop Langton — it opened a recent BBC feature programme "Free Men's Charter", written and produced by the distinguished English actor Robert Speaight. "And here," said the announcer, "is Runnymede today; and here is Mr. Vernon Bartlett, M.P., to describe it to you." Which he did,
as follows:
"In these Meads on the 15th June, King John, at the instance of the deputies from the whole community of the realm, granted the Great Charter." I am looking at the place engraved on a kind of stone pillar at the entrance to Runnymede.
The thing that Magna Carta stood for, and has increasingly come to stand for, are the things we are fighting for now. Magna Carta is very much a piece of modern history all the same. I'd like to know what these meadows looked like on June 15, 1215. I suppose daisies and buttercups were in flower, as they are this afternoon, and the woods in leaf.
But what was the feeling of that strange historic scene? That's what I should like to know.
And then the Free Man comes to tell him, "I am the Free Man, I sit with you in the House of Commons.
I decided you during the election meeting at Western-Super-Mare.
You read my letters in the newspapers; sometimes agreeing with me, sometimes not. You can hear me any Sunday in Hyde Park. You don't recognize my voice. Never mind, I speak with many voices, and with many minds. But my mind and my speech are free. Although I may sound to you fairly young, I am really very old. I am much older than many people imagine. I wasn't born with the Parliament Act in 1911, or the Reform Bill in 1832, or the French Revolution in 1789, or the Bill of Rights in 1689. My beginnings are back in the Athenian Market Place, and the Roman Tribunal, and deep in the first catacombs of Christendom. . . All the time I've been growing up, Magna Carta? That was one of my birthdays. You can call it my 21st birthday if you like. It wasn't only important for what it did in 1215; it is even more important for what it does in 1942."

ADVERTISING FOR SECURITY

"Why advertise when I can't get enough to sell as it is? And anyway I'll increase my profits just by having the government take it away from me in taxes?" Those are typical of the questions which the advertising salesman faces today and to which a New York advertising executive has recently put the answer in convincing form.
Advertising is much more than just a sales plug, in this man's opinion. It can be used to create or mould public opinion and is being so used by many large firms on this continent whose entire stock in trade has been cut off in favor of war production. Those firms feel that businessmen may need a favorable public more than ever before if they wish to go back into business after the war is over.

The experience of the last great war still affords a striking example of the dire results of false war economy in advertising. Many of our readers can look back to those pre-war days and recall nationally advertised and merchandised products which, after the war quickly declined in public favor and finally went out of production. Not that their product was no longer used; they had simply failed to try and sell it to the public.
They had stopped advertising.
All business now has a vital job to perform but if it expects to survive the war and the post-war crisis it must tell the public convincingly why it should survive. And let none make the mistake of thinking they can eliminate advertising now and pick it up where they left off after the war. Some other more progressive firm will have already filled the vacuum.
If business, great or small, is to retain its relatively free position it must keep close contact with the public as the astute politician maintains with voters.
If business fails to keep its house flags flying, it may be the victim in yet another fatal case of getting there too late, with too little.

Scrap Salvage Head Visits Through District

Mr. Ed. Fisher, who is the responsible head for the gathering of scrap salvage (metals, etc.) for Northern Alberta was in town on Saturday last checking up available supplies of this very necessary commodity.
In conversation with Mr. Fisher it was learned that the Wainwright campaign has been going along very nicely, and up to date has shipped some 160 tons of scrap metals, and that, including the amount on hand at the gathering point in town, there are about another 100 tons to be brought in and shipped from this point.
In addition to the above materials some 35 tons of bones have been shipped out as well as large quantities of scrap rubber; although much more of these materials also are required almost as urgently as the scrap metals, according to Mr. Fisher.

World of Wheat

Searle Grain Company, Ltd.

FEEDING WHEAT TO CATTLE

A Saskatchewan farmer has drawn to my attention a statement made by a large cattle feeding farm operating in the vicinity of Chicago. This farm announced that they intend to purchase and to feed to cattle, this year a good deal of wheat in place of corn. They found from their tests that cattle fed on wheat gained 2.14 pounds a day. They also found that steers fed on wheat required slightly less feed per 100 pounds of gain as compared with those fed on corn. They summarized their tests by stating that wheat has a surprisingly high feeding value for steers. They note, however, that if wheat is fed it must be given a rough grind or simply be cracked to gain the best results. If it is ground too fine it forms a sticky mass in the animal's mouth and will not be thoroughly digested.

This American farm found also that if wheat is used with corn for cattle feeding, it decreases the need for purchasing additional supplements or concentrates. Their tests showed that wheat was not a suitable feed for sheep, but that pigs fattened in good style on the grain.

It struck me that these experiments, made near the great Stock Market of Chicago, may be of interest to some of our Western Canadian farmers.

Following factors have tended to decrease supply or increase demand:—Harvesting operations have been delayed in Western Canada by widespread rains and windstorms. —Exports from Europe continue to stress the poor crops in southern and eastern countries. —Following factors have tended to increase supply or decrease demand:—North American supplies of wheat and coarse grains are the highest on record. —Crop prospects continue good in Australia.

HEALTH

EGGS — WHITE OR BROWN
THIS MORNING ON MILLIONS OF BREAKFAST TABLES Eggs helped to get the families off to a good start for the day, and in millions of other homes eggs will continue the good work at lunch and dinner. In varied dress — as golden scrambled, poached on toast, hard or soft in their shells, "sunside up" with ham, or hidden away in muffins or dessert — eggs are good for us at any meal.

A "MUST" FOOD
Eggs are the "must" foods. Even when budgets are limited, at least three or four eggs a week are needed for each person. If possible, one egg a day for each child and each grown-up is recommended and sometimes two.

WHEAT IS AN EGG?
Eggs are rich in: Iron, one of the minerals our bodies need; Vitamins A and G; Good quality protein, important for children. They also contain some Vitamin D.

STYLES IN SHELLS
Some people like white shelled eggs while others prefer them brown. The color of the shell is related only to the kind of hen. Leghorns lay white eggs; most other hens lay brown eggs. The color of the shell has nothing to do with age, condition or flavor of eggs. Flavor depends mostly on what the hens eat. Grade for grade, white eggs and brown eggs are the same.

YOLKS — LIGHT OR DARK?
Many people think the color of the yolk indicates its "freshness" — the orange ones being older. This is not true for color depends on the hen's food and may vary from light yellow to deep orange and the egg still be of excellent quality.

COOLNESS PREFERRED
Once a good egg, not always a good egg, unless properly cared for. Eggs like milk, are perishable, and should be kept in a cool place — in your refrigerator, if possible.

THE ART OF COOKING EGGS
High temperatures make eggs white tough. Today, the best cook doesn't boil eggs. Instead she puts the egg in cold water, brings it to a boil, covers, and turns off the heat. The egg should stand in the water for three minutes (soft cooked), and 7-10 minutes (hard cooked). Scrambled eggs are best cooked in

FARM NOTES

Selected Turkey Breeding Stock

Selection of turkey breeding stock should begin as soon as the birds approach maturity and should be based on observations made during the two month period prior to marketing. The success that will attend the efforts of any turkey breeder will depend to a great extent upon the care and judgment he uses in the selection of his breeding stock, says R. M. Blakely, Dominion Experimental Station, Swift Current, Saskatchewan. Birds which are not in condition to be marketed during the early winter should not be kept as breeders. They may produce birds which will be of similar type the following season.

One of the most common faults of the heavy breeds of turkeys is that they are too late maturing. Early maturity should be one of the first considerations in selecting breeding stock. As the different age groups reach 24 weeks of age they should be checked for the early feathering plumage bodied individuals. Selection for this characteristic after 30 weeks of age is of little value. Good body type should be the second consideration. Only those birds showing balanced carriage as indicated by fullness of breast, medium length of leg and neck and blocky outline should be marked for future consideration. Special attention should be paid to the spacing of the legs. Thickness of fleshing over the full length of the breast bone is only carried by birds with well spaced legs. These points should be looked for as the birds move about the pen. While size is desirable, extremely large, coarse birds should be avoided. On the other hand over-refinement may indicate lack of constitution.

Good Supply for Winter-Born Pigs

A little sod in the pen during winter months is the hog's natural source of iron writes M. J. McPhail, Dominion Experimental Station, Melville, Saskatchewan. Lack of iron causes anaemia in suckling pigs. The symptoms of this trouble are paleness of the skin and lack of vitality. Later, if iron is not supplied, pigs may develop white scour, with the result that a considerable percentage is likely to die and the development of the others will be greatly retarded.

Anaemia can be avoided by catching each little pig and putting the amount of reduced iron that can be

NEWS OF YOUR ARMY

They make 'em tough in Brockville these days. Tougher than ever before.

The new officers of the Canadian Army who are now training at the Officer's Training Centre in Brockville have recently had instruction in what has been called "gutter fighting" by experts.

No trick is missed by the officer candidates, and the "daddy of them all" is at present at the centre instructing the future commando leaders. He is Major Ewart Fairbairn late of the Shanghai Municipal Police, the toughest police force in China. For thirty years prior to the outbreak of war, the Major was with the Shanghai police. His methods now being used at Brockville, were developed in alleys and shadows of Shanghai. The famous Japanese Judo (Judo) contributed, and so did Chinese boxing. Major Fairbairn's method can beat both. Shanghai was filled with cut-throats and the police had to be tough. Tougher even than the killers they had to bring in.

Since then he has instructed the British Commandos and parachute troops, and the American armoured forces. Now he is in Brockville for a short time to give the instructors there an insight into his methods. Knife fighting is one of the most important phases of Commando training, claims Major Fairbairn... and he knows whereof he speaks. The "Commando knife" was designed by him. And he shows his followers how to use it.

The modern soldier can't carry the spirit of sportsmanship into a theatre of action. He has to be hard-hearted to the last. It's himself or his enemy. And the Commando has already proven himself superior to his opponent.

NEW TYRES FOR OLD

Thousands of old tyres a month are now being made new for the British Army in a pottery works in Staffordshire.

Long strips of tread rubber lie piled in a storeroom which was once the decorating shop. Covers for giant tyres are being vulcanized over pits where china clay used to be left to keep it damp. The finished tyres are stored.

Worn tyres come today from the Army's transport lorries, motor cycles, and trucks, not to mention from the other services and from buses and the Civil Defence organizations. With a fraction of the rubber needed for a new tyre, they go back rejuvenated, fit to do again the mileage they have already done.

Three hundred workers have been trained by key men from Fort Dunlop to do the job of re-treading. Two thirds of them are women. In the moulding shop, once a pottery store, are miners discharged from the pits for physical disability.

The pottery people have not surrendered the damp clay spins into "utility" tea-cups, and they are still miling clay in flint for the whole range of "utility" pottery.

BRITAIN'S PARATROOPS

A film about Britain's parachute troops, showing the training of this most modern branch of the Army, is coming out from London shortly. Specially produced for overseas, "Paratroops" first shows the recruits jumping off high platforms and ranging from great heights to over come dizziness. It then describes their training from the first practice jump out of a carrier attached to a balloon up to the actual leap from troop-carrying planes. The men land. Their parachutes are untrapped. They get to work. Bridger blows up. Out supplies blaze. It is a thrilling story, graphically done.

held on a small five cent piece will back of its tongue. This must be done when five days of age and again a week later and a third dose one week following the second. Dosing the young in this way is an unpleasant task and frequently is delayed until definite signs of anaemia act as a reminder.

If young pigs are given the opportunity to root in sod from the time they are born, they are not likely to suffer from lack of iron. In order to make certain that the sod contains enough iron, it is well to dissolve a tablespoon of iron sulphate in a pint of water and sprinkle it over the amount of sod that will fill a pail. This is a much more pleasant way of supplying the young pigs with iron and therefore it is not so likely to be neglected during busy seasons.

A good plan is to store a pile of sod convenient to the pigsty sometime in September so that it will be easy to provide and every day. There are a number of diseases common to pigs but vigorous hogs are not so likely to contract them as those that suffer from lack of certain essential elements in their ration.

British Columbia has 6,000,000 boxes of Highgrade Apples and only a Domestic Market to eat them.

Beauty for YOU

The Secrets of Good Looks by Barbara Lynn.

SAVE MONEY ON BEAUTIFYING

There are so many calls on our purses in these war days that we are all trying to economize. It is surprising how many ways there are of eliminating waste on our beautifiers, without affecting our looks. I have jotted down a few beauty-secrets.

Hand creams can be an expense if you have to use them lavishly, so alternate your cream or hand lotion with olive oil.

When your lipstick has worn right down there is often still a good half inch or so left in the holder. Poke this out with a pin and put it in a little jar. Get a flat brush and use three-eighths inch wide — and do what film stars do, paint your lipstick on with a brush. You can use it as a cheek rouge, too, softening it with a little cold cream.

However how tightly you screw the top down, your nail polish probably goes thick before you finish the bottle. Try warming the bottle by putting it in a basin of almost boiling water before you use it. If that doesn't work, add a little nail varnish-remover to the bottle, shaking it well.

You'll find your outlay on face creams less burdensome if you use the lovely, yet inexpensive, new Three-Purpose cream. This serves the purpose of several creams. It acts as a cleansing cream as well as a massage cream, and also makes a wonderful foundation base for powder. Use as a "six-minute make-up".

Three-Purpose cream with powder, rouge and lipstick to match will help you to save money, and help save your looks, too!

I shall be delighted to help you in your beauty problems. Drop me a line and enclose four one-cent stamps for my new booklet on Beauty Gains. It will solve most of your beauty worries. Address: Miss Barbara Lynn, Box 70, Station B, Montreal, Quebec.

THE WILSON FLY PAD CO., Hamilton, Ont.

By Fit. Lieut. T. G. McCall R.C.A.F.

"Somewhere in Great Britain" you will find members of an R.C.A.F. Boston fighter-bomber crew poring over maps of Canada in their spare time. It's all part of a new squadron policy to name their aircraft after places in their native land. No more "C for Charlie" or "O for Oswald". For a while they tried Canadian city names like "T for Toronto" and "C for Calgary", but one of the brighter minds conceived the idea of utilizing picturesque names. So now the commanding officer's aircraft is "A for Apsikigami", another has become "T for Temagami", another is "R for Restigouche" and a fourth is "H for Hochelaga". Toronto and Ottawa, they say, are good names but not exotic enough.

Many Canadians were annoyed over the large numbers of R.C.A.F. training aircraft which are to be seen flying over towns and villages from the Maritimes to the Pacific. A theory is held in some quarters that the aircraft were in and bank for the express purpose of showing off for the benefit of relative or feminine admirers. The fact is that each time you see an aeroplane over town it is carrying out a scheduled manoeuvre. Chances are that a member of the crew may be taking photographs so that when he flies over Germany his photographic skill will permit him to bring back evidence of targets for future attack. Or perhaps the navigator is carrying out an exercise, using a certain building as a "pinpoint", much the same as he will be required to "pinpoint" a power plant in Berlin or Essen. The pilot, too, may be engaged in a navigation exercise. He must be able to identify communities from the air—and a difficult trick it is too, at times—so that when he finds himself over strange territory he will recognize objectives from the map he has seen. It all fits into the general picture of the vast air training program. No flying is done for fun or for amusement, least of all the night flying exercises which must be carried out at all Service Flying Training Schools. Not long ago a woman complained to a neighbor that she had been disturbed the night before by the sound of an aeroplane circling overhead.

"Did it have black crosses painted on it?" asked the neighbor.

"No, I don't believe it did," the woman replied.

"Well," said the other, "you ought to feel thankful."

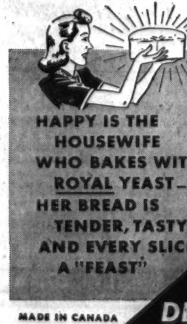

Which sums up matters fairly well.

PURE...
DEPENDABLE

Not long ago a group of airmen at the Service Flying Training School near Brantford, Ontario, had a few days of extra time on their hands while waiting for a new course to get under way. They put it to good use by turning out in a body to help neighboring farmers get their crops in. Needless to say, the gesture was appreciated by the farmers who had reason to be doubly grateful to the R.C.A.F.

If you've ever been on a Royal Air Force station, you may have been puzzled to see airmen and officers alike suddenly salute while walking through a particular area. It is a custom which is observed throughout the entire R.C.A.F. The object of the salute being the ensign which usually flies from a mast before the main administration building. The tradition is essentially a Canadian one and is a constant reminder to all who wear the uniform of the significance of their flag.

It sounds paradoxical but the Royal Canadian Air Force has a great number of sailors in its ranks. These are the men who must operate the "crash boats" and the various types of rescue craft and tenders employed along Canada's coasts, as well as in the waters over which aircraft from bombing and schools operate. There are even marine gunners, as distinct from air gunners, who receive special training in operating large calibre machine guns while skimming over the waves at breakneck speed. The latest type of "crash boat" used on our coasts, operates a fully equipped operating room and hospital accommodation for several men. And it can protect itself, too, if anyone tries to interfere with its mission of rescuing airmen in distress.

New Language Set

Up by R.C.A.F.

"Dreadful flap at Ops! Three-kites missing. See if you can get me some on it."

This command, addressed to a newly-arrived Canadian airman would probably throw him into confusion until such time as he had succeeded in mastering the intricacies of "Ruf"—the jargon language of all who fly with the R.A.F.

Translated the request means that the operations room—nerve centre of the squadron—is concerned over the absence of three aircraft and the speaker would like some information on the matter. "Gen" is a short term used for inside information; "flap" means almost any kind of commotion or to-do, and "kites" of course, refers to aircraft.

With many Canadian flyers returning to Canada, such terms as the above are likely to find their way into the language of the younger generation. For instance, there's the expression, "Good Show" which is a comment designed to cover almost any situation from shooting down three enemy aircraft to buying a new necktie. Overseas, a chap is a "type"—either good or bad. If you see a pilot with the top button of his tunic unfastened, don't chide him for sloppiness; he's a fighter pilot and as a ruggedly individualistic fellow, demands the right to express himself thus. If his cap badge, instead of gleaming, is heavily tarnished and covered with verdigris, it isn't that he doesn't take pride in his uniform. Not at all. He's proud to be a coastal command or flying boat chappie whose exposure to salt water is emblazoned on his cap badge as a testimonial for all to see.

Scottish hospitality does not take second place to anything found on this continent. In the opinion of Flight Lieutenant A. R. Ferguson, an R.C.A.F. padre, who, however, may be somewhat prejudiced in the matter. Fit. Lt. Ferguson, who formerly held charges as a Presbyterian clergyman at various points in Ontario was born in Scotland and educated at Glasgow University. Now with the Royal Canadian Air Force he is back in his homeland and recently conducted a service at a church where he was assistant minister in 1919. Since taking up his post in Scotland he estimates that he has travelled "900 miles by train and the same distance on foot." Canadian airmen stationed in the land of the heather have received a warm welcome, he says.

The squadron commanded by Wing Commander F. Y. Davoud of Kingston, Ontario, now somewhere in Great Britain, has a distinguished member whose exploits are frequently mentioned in the official diary. For example:

"A reconnaissance patrol headed by A. C. M. Timoshenko, D.M.C., penetrated into enemy lines in the dining room. A single unit was encountered and destroyed. Our forces maintained their patrol before retreating to a stronger position. The presence of the enemy was suspected in the C.O.'s room. The actual strength of the opposing force was not known. It was believed that an attack was about to be made on the very large quantities of food stored there. A. C. M. Timoshenko, D.M.C. made a sortie and surprised an enemy patrol. This was destroyed, and judging by the extreme youth we may assume that the numbers of the opposition are becoming depleted."

Timoshenko, by the way, is the squadron cat. The designation "A.C.M." does not mean Air Chief Marshal, but rather Air Chief Mouser, and the decoration D.M.C. stands for Distinguished Mousing Cross.

Hints for the Household

USE EGGS IN SALADS

In warm weather many people have tendency to eliminate the morning breakfast egg. So why not balance this by enjoying an occasional healthful egg salad for lunch or dinner?

Here are some egg salad suggestions for your approval:

Salad Eggs
6 hard-cooked eggs
1 tablespoon butter
1 tablespoon cream
1/2 teaspoon mustard
Pinch cayenne
1 teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon anchovy paste
Lettuce or cress
Garnish of radishes and small onions

Remove the shells from the cold, hard-cooked eggs and cut a large piece from the top of each. Take out the yolks and mix them to form a paste with butter, cream, mustard, cayenne, salt and anchovy paste. Put this mixture back into the hollows and lay the egg on a dish of lettuce or cress. Garnish with radishes and small onions.

THE NEW INCOME TAX

PART I - As it Affects SALARY AND WAGE EARNERS

1. Question: WHO MUST PAY?

Answer: All persons in receipt of income over $400 single or $1200 married.

2. Question: WHAT FORMS DO YOU HAVE TO FILL OUT?

Answer: Unless you are single, without dependents, and not making payments for allowable personal savings (item TD), you should file Form TD-1 with your employer. Otherwise he must deduct the amounts provided by the Table of Tax Deductions for a single person without dependents or personal savings.

If 1/2 or more of your income comes from salary or wages, you must file your 1942 Income Return by 30th September 1943. If your income is not over $1,000, including not over $100 from investments, you will use Form T-1-Special; otherwise you will use Form T-1.

3. Question: WHEN AND HOW IS YOUR TAX COLLECTED?

Answer: Your employer is required by law to make deductions from your salary or wages on account of your 1942 tax during the period September 1942 to August 1943. Each deduction must be the amount provided by the official Table of Tax Deductions for your current rate of pay, and family status and personal savings as declared on Form TD-1 (item 2 above).

The Table is designed to collect about 90% of the tax on your salary or wages, leaving a balance of not more than 10%, in most cases, (plus tax on your other income, if any) to be paid with your Income Return to be filed in September 1943.

If your salary or wages are less than 1/2 of your income, you must pay tax on your other income by compulsory instalments. (See Part II below).

4. Question: WHAT CONSTITUTES TAXABLE INCOME?

Answer: Your income is made up of your full salary or wages before any deductions whatsoever, plus living allowances, gratuities or bonuses (including cost of living bonus) and the value of pay board, living quarters or supplies, etc., given you by your employer. It also includes such receipts as interest and dividends, rents (after taxes, repairs, etc.), royalties and annuities. From your total income you deduct payments (up to $300) into certain types of employees' superannuation or pension funds, charitable donations up to 10% of your income (maximum—$400 single, $600 married), plus $100 for each dependent up to four, to find the amount of your taxable income.

5. Question: HOW MUCH DO YOU PAY?

Answer: (A) Normal Tax—(whichever rate is applicable is applied to the full amount of

(1) In no case are you required to pay a net tax (i.e., after credit for dependents) which would reduce your taxable income below $400 single or $1200 married.
(2) If a wife has earned income over $400, then both she and her husband are taxable as single persons, but any amount a wife earns does not affect her husband's right to be taxed as a married person. MANY CROSTIES USED BY CANADIAN NATIONAL

Montreal. — While experiments have been carried out with steel and concrete as railway crosties, wood continues to furnish the standard method of securing rails to the ground. The number of ties per mile of track on the Canadian National Railway rises to 3,250 on heavy traffic main line, each 39 foot rail requiring 24 crosties. In an average year the railways of Canada and the United States install about 60,000, 000 crosties.

It is now ILLEGAL to HOARD scrap steel or UNUSABLE machinery

The Steel Controller has ordered that, after September 15, 1942, no person may retain in his possession scrap iron or steel weighing a total of 300 pounds or more unless he has a permit.

(For the purpose of the new regulations, scrap metal includes machinery, structural steel, or any other article or commodity containing iron or steel, which is not serving an immediate vital purpose.)

The order also provides:

- That anyone, coming into possession after September 15 of scrap iron or steel weighing 300 pounds or more, must dispose of it within 30 days.
- That any person having a valid reason for not disposing of scrap metal as scrap metal or who believes that it can serve some essential purpose, must send in a report by September 15 to the Used Goods Administrator of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board, London Building, Toronto. His report must reveal the exact description, quantity, and location of his scrap metal.

The provisions of the order do not apply to scrap dealers who are already subject to previous orders; nor do they affect metal fabricators and processors who are in legal possession of metal to be used in manufacturing.

A copy of the order, S.C. 15, may be obtained from the Steel Controller, Department of Munitions and Supply, Ottawa.

Infractions of the new regulations are subject to a fine of up to $5,000, or imprisonment of up to five years, or both fine and imprisonment.

GOVERNMENT INSURANCE IN CASE OF WAR DAMAGE TO PROPERTY

OWNERS OF PROPERTY ARE URGED TO INSURE AGAINST LOSS BY ENEMY ACTION

The Government of Canada, by Act of Parliament, has set up a Plan of War Risk Insurance against damage to property caused by enemy action—by countermeasures taken against the enemy—by explosions of war munitions handled by third parties.

In terms of general information, it may be stated that the Plan provides a certain limited FREE COMPENSATION for damage to owner-occupied homes and to chattels, but the main feature of the Plan is that owners of most types of property can protect their property by PURCHASE of GOVERNMENT WAR RISK INSURANCE at very moderate rates.

This type of War Risk Insurance is not being sold today by private insurance companies, because of the risk involved. Consequently, the Government has established a national scheme to make it possible for each citizen in Canada to purchase the sense of security that comes from knowing that if his property does suffer war damage (and the war has come much closer to Canada in the last twelve months) he can call on the resources of Canada to help him make good his property loss.

HOW TO OBTAIN GOVERNMENT WAR RISK INSURANCE

The Fire Insurance Agents and Companies of Canada have volunteered to the Government the services of their extensive facilities and personnel, on a non-profit basis, thus avoiding the setting up of the large organization that otherwise would be needed to handle details of this nation-wide Government War Risk Insurance scheme.

YOUR FIRE INSURANCE AGENT OR COMPANY WILL GLADLY SUPPLY COMPLETE DETAILS OF THIS GOVERNMENT INSURANCE PLAN.

THIS ANNOUNCEMENT IS PUBLISHED so that the public may have notice of the Government War Risk Insurance Scheme. The information given above is not intended to be a complete resume of the Scheme. Full information regarding conditions, exclusions, etc., is available elsewhere.

TO HOME OWNERS HOUSEHOLDERS AND OTHERS

Limited free compensation is provided under the Act for War Damage by enemy action to owner-occupied homes up to $3,000. Damage to Householder's Chattels, up to $500—for those of his wife, up to $400—for each child under 16, up to $100—for orphans, not householders, up to $200.

No policies are needed in this classification but insurance additional to the above amounts may be purchased.

Ask any Fire Insurance Agent or Company for complete details.

MR. MOTORIST

Here are 8 things that will give as much as 25% more miles per gallon of gasoline.

1. Chassis Lubrication where and when required reduces friction, eases the load, and saves gasoline.
2. Engine Oil changed frequently permits maximum power to be generated, particularly when using light weight oils, thus saving gasoline.
3. Spark Plugs that are badly worn or dirty may waste as much as one gallon of gasoline in ten.
4. Electrical System. Condition of battery, distributor points, wires and connections, etc., affect engine efficiency and gasoline economy.
5. Leaky Fuel Lines may be responsible for needless waste of gasoline.
6. Underinflated Tires make the car harder to move, so waste gasoline.
7. Slipping Clutch dissipates power before it reaches the rear wheels, so wastes gasoline.
8. Dirt in Carburetor prevents proper mixture of fuel and air for efficient combustion, resulting in fewer miles per gallon of gasoline.

A special appeal is made this week to all local women to attend the meeting of the War Service League in the Town Hall on Friday next at 3 p.m. It is only a short time before preparation of Christmas parcels for our boys overseas is started, and everyone's help is needed for this important work.

This is implicitly true, for who does not feel his natural self when well-shod with shoes that are repaired by skilled craftsmen with fine-grade leather essential for long service and comfort? For that added essentially take your shoes to the O.K. Shoe Repair, Main Street. The price, too, will be found pleasing.
